FACTS

Patrons of participating agencies

Resident patrons of participating county libraries and students of Lake Sumter Community College may also obtain a Lake County Library System library card in the same manner. Present your valid resident library card from a participating agency and appropriate ID with your current residential address at any of the Lake County Library System member or branch libraries listed. You will be presented with a special library card.

Some services may be limited or excluded with this card.

Adult Literacy Services

The Lake County Library System Adult Literacy Program has created an Adult New Reader collection to support tutors and adult learners as they work towards literacy goals. A portion of this collection is available for patrons, including reciprocal borrowers, to borrow and continue the learning process in the convenience of their own home. Literacy reference materials are available to all at any Lake County Library location.

Orange, Osceola, Polk,
Seminole and Volusia Counties and*

Lake Sumter Community College Students

A Continuing Commitment

The Lake County Library System, in an effort to provide Lake County residents with the freedom of access to information, has entered into agreements which will allow Lake County Library System patrons to borrow library materials from the libraries listed.

Residents of the participating counties will also have access to the Lake County Library System libraries. The location of political boundaries and mobility of Central Florida residents have led to the realization that library users are better served through the sharing of resources among library systems.

Lake County residents

Reciprocal borrowing enables you, as a Lake County resident, to check out materials from any of the libraries listed in this brochure without paying a nonresident fee.

Present your valid resident Lake County library card and appropriate ID with your current residential address at any participating library. You will be presented with a special library card for that county system. Cards are good for one year and may be renewed for additional one year periods.

Materials must be returned to one of the libraries in the county from which it was borrowed. A book is not considered returned until it reaches the library of origin. An overdue charge will be assessed on materials returned past the due date.

Circulation rules may vary depending on the lending library.
