

Even When

Even when I cannot see the sun up in the sky...
When it's hidden in the clouds...and not showing to my eye...
I know it's there.

Even when the fog's so dense, it covers every tree...
And no matter where I look, there's nothing I can see...
I know they're there.

Even when the moon and stars are hidden in the night...
And I cannot see their brightness, and cannot see their light...
I know they're there.

And...even when I hear no words that tell me how you feel...
The words that say "I love you..." the words I know are real...
I know they're there!
