

If You Give A Flamingo A Fish
By Madison Loftis

If you give a flamingo a fish....

It will remind him about his favorite talent: standing on one leg.

And after practicing that, he will see your sandbox.

He will play in the sandbox for as long as he wants.

Then he will stop to rest.

After he has rested, he sees your mommy and runs and runs away.

Poor flamingo will be all by himself.

If flamingo is all by himself he will probably start thinking about being hungry.

And chances are if he is hungry, he probably will go back and ask you for more fish!
